

EVELYN YARD
JUNE SNOW
June 7, 2014

Evelyn Yard is pleased to present a new project to engage with the work of critical young artists. The simple, almost banal theme, suggests a polyphony of positions occupied, that don't necessarily begin with old art grudges, but rather explore the possibility of the gallery space as a vehicle for discourse on aesthetics and beyond. The uncanny spectre of a snowstorm in June, a promise of a perpetually inverted Spring, the blank canvas of climate change.

Alex Clarke | Tiril Hasselknippe | Conor Backman | Paul Kneale
Jordan Nassar | Foster & Berean | Amalia Ulman | Luke Libera Moore
Takeshi Shiomitsu | John Gordon Gauld | Lewis Teague Wright
Holly White | Samuel Levack & Jennifer Lewandowski | Hector Arce-Espasas
Matthew de Kersaint Giraudeau | Jamie Jenkinson

With special book presentation by Charles Veyron